Scrofuln and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Nores, Erustions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

J. C. Ayer & Co. Gents: I feel in y duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and care with one sore, which tried many medicines and several tried many medicines and several fact, the without much relief from anything. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rediced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that anything you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a tespoonful over a menth, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the sad, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that 'Y Desach has gone from my system. You can not believe that I feel what I am stying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the mosters of the age.

In our yesterday's issue we published a letter on the subject of desertions from H. M. Navy, which unfortunately have become too prevalent in our midst of late. The letter gives a statement of facts which it were well if all parties endeavored to impress upon these weak-minded men, who desert from the service in order, as they suppose, to improve their condition on the other side; because in doing so, it will be seen they make a great mistake. The confession of the poor fellows to the author of the letter referred to, that but few can get work who run over to the American side; that those who do can only earn one dollar a day in greenbacks, for which they have to work twelve hours, at labor they know nothing of, and under masters who never abate a moment's time, that they are often left without time; that they are often left without shoes to their feet or money to buy food with ; and that if it were not for pride and dread of the ridicule of their shipmates, they would gladly return to their ships without a moment's delay-ought by some official action to be made known through every ship of the Fleet. The miserable plight of these men, and perhaps the sadder fate of those who were drowned the other day, may be avoided by others, if it were publicly posted up in each could read it or hear it read. Some adopted to prevent this loss of men, for since the sad occurrence which led to Billy Lyon's conviction and punishment the Scout, we are informed, has lost three more men. The loss of life, however, is the most serious thing in connexion with these desertions. No doubt, as stated, more than half of the men crossing the Straits in the small boats they can only obtain are swept away by the currents and swamped, too great for those miserable men who trade upon the credulity of our sailors for the sake of robbing them of their money, and yet that is evidently the sole business of more than Lyons who has been convicted of the offence. The worst class of these men are those who come over to live here for no other purpose. It is difficult at all times for our Police to get hold of the general congratulations on the safety them, but the conviction of Lyons will of the great explorer. help much hereafter, and as one or two of these skulking rascals are known and will be watched very closely for the future they had better make themselves scarce. Voting in Grece is somewhat different from voting in America. The polling places are churches. Thirty ballot boxes are placed on the floor of the church, each of them bearing the name of a candidate. Upon one-half of the box, painted white, is written "Yes," and on the other half, painted black, is written "No." A clerk attends the voter, with thirty bullets and when opposite a box, pronounces the name of the candidate and hands the voter a bullet. Passing his arm up a funnel about a foot in length, the voter's hand arrives unseen at a divi. sion in the box, and he drops the bill to the right or left, "yes" or "no," as the cese may be, and so on throughtout the whole thirty. The system is said to insure secresy and perfect order.

Dr. Livingstone

SIR Roderick Murchison, President of the Royal Geographical Society, had an evening reception on May 4, at Willis's Rooms.— The meeting of the society was more than usually crowded at Bur-lington House, in consequence of the understanding that letters would be read from Dr. Livingstone. In opening the proceedings, Sir Roderick Murchison, the In opening the proceedings, Sir Roderick Murchant, the president, incidentally referred to the news from Abyssinia as a subject for general rejoicing. The chief business of the evening, however, was the reading of official and other despatches from, or respecting the explorations of, the great African traveller, upon whose safety the president congratulated the society and the country. Letters had been received by various persons in the country confirming the glad tidings that Livingstone was alive and well. There was nothing new to add, except as to the geographical features of his perilous journey; and this was embodied in a long letter from the Doctor to Sir Roderick himself, dated Bemba, Feb. 2, 1867. The letter spoke very hopefully, but gave one item of information of no small importance to the African traveller—Dr. Livingstone had lost all his medicines, which he said was the sorest loss of goods he ever sustained. If, he added, "fever comes, 1 am hoping Lord Stanley, and from Dr. Kirk, fully corroborating the welcome intelligence forwarded not long ago. After these documents had been read, Sir Roderick repeated the joy he falt that his dietinguished friend was safe, and the admiration he had of his indomitable perseverance and pluck. Passing to the future, he thought that, if Livingstone took the short route back, he might be in England in the autumn, but that if he continued his explorations northward, he might be absent eighteen months longer. Sir Samuel Båker rose after the president had resumed his seat, and, in the course of a very hearty speech, said he never acknow-pleasure in his life as he now did; but he caused much good humoured laughter by insisting that his former opinion was based upon practical evidence, and Sir Roderick's upon mere faith, He added that the next question they would have to discuss was where to receive Livingstone when he returned; and he thought that, as there was no public building large enough, there was nothing for it but ask permission of Mr. Beales and the Reform League to use Hyde Park for the purpose, Whenever Dr. Livingstone came, he would, at all events, be received with open arms and a hearty welcome by leaving no other record of them in the people of England. For all that Sir this world but the word "missing" on the manner is which the matter, the muster roll. No punishment is their hopes, he was entitled to the warmest and best thanks of the society and the country at large. Sir R. Murchison, in acknowledging the enthusiastic manner in which his name had been received, expressed the gratification he felt in laying the letters just read before the society and declared that this was the happiest day of his life. Mr. Waller, who accompanied Dr. Livingstone on his first expedi-tion, and Captain Sherard Osborn also addressed the assemblage, and joined in respectively interested in them :

.$253, 250,000 This, the New York Evening Post calls 'plucking the national goose,' The enterprises, all, are important ones. But when the number and extent of these demands are considered, and the financial difficulties of the country taken into account, it will not be thought strange that Congress hesitates to. grant aid to projects which we on the northwest coast are interested in, It is useless for any one to censure Congress; for if the opposite party were in power it would be infinitely less likely to grant the aid desired for the development of the country .- Oregon

FORT TONGAS is located in about 55 deg. N. on an island of the same name. A detachment of the 2nd US Artillery, under command of Capt Pierce, are creeting the necessary buildings, which will be enclosed in a substantial stockade. The officers at present stationed at this post are Captain Pierce, Lieutenants Lord and Murphy, and Surgeon Chismore, Fort Wrangel is also located on an island of the same name, near the mouth of Stekin River. This will be a a strongly blockaded post, like that at Tongas. It is garrisoned by a detachment of the 2nd US Artillery. The officers are, Captain Smith, in command of post; Lient. Ring, A. A. Q.M., and Surgeon Carter. The location is well chosen and will be one of the most important posts in the new Territory, A port of entry has been established here, under charge of Lieut. MASONIC PICNIC. - This re-union came off yesterday, and though not extensively patronized was a very pleasant affair. The site selected, on the estate of J. D. Pemberton. commanding as it does a beautiful view and abundance of shade. The floor for dancing was the best we have seen out of doors, and as Haine's band gave good music dancing was kept up with spirit until nearly nine o'clock. Thomas, of the Bee Hive, and Piper, of Government street, those masters o creature comforts, bad everything at com mand the fastidious could desire. The spirit of those present made up for the want of numbers, and we did not see an unhappy looking face on the grounds.

NATIONAL DEBTS .- The debts of England and America now approximate so closely that there is little real difference. The in terest on the English debt, according to the last estimates was £26,700 000; the interest on the American debt, reduced to Euglish money, is £25,935,617, leaving only £764 383 difference between the two. It is computed that every soldier in America costs the Government $2,000 per annum, so that that the present army of 50,000 men costs annually $100,000,000

THE impression seems to be gaining ground hat Chase will be nominated by the Democrats for President, Between him and the managers of that party there are the strongest of bonds-seven-thirties and five-twenties. Chase is the originator of our financial system and Belmont is the largest holder of national securities.

FIRE-A rumour prevailed on the streets yesterday, of a fire which occurred at Govroment House a few days since, which might bave been serious. As the matter has been kept quiet, we could not ascertain the precise amount of damage, although for that done, some of the Insurance Offices, it is said, have been called upon to pay.

the California wheat crop will produce 25,-000,000 bushels. During the American war the Government purchased and used 27,009,-000 lbs. of powder. POLICE COURT-James McGilvray was

Farmers and graziers have now an opportunity of testing the desirability of gorze for that purpose. It has been brought here at the request of a grazier who is well satisfied as to its utility.

British Columbia.

[FROM THE HAMILTON SPECTATOR.] It is evident that the people of Cali-ornia fully understand and appreciate the value of British Columbia, and the importance of preventing that country from becoming incorporated with the Dominion of Canada.

They see clearly enough that if British Columbia and Vancouver Is. land, with the numerous harbors and extensive coal fields remain British and become connected by a trans-continental road with the Atlantic . eaboard, their own good city of San Francisco must appoint occupy a second rate position. NO longer could they hope to see all the com-merce between this continent and Japan and China pass through the "Golden Gates" of their beautiful harbor. The shorter route via British territory would undoubtedly command by far the largest share of the trade between Europe and Japan, and Canadian mer chants also would have an opportun ty the Asiatic trade on fair and favorable terms. Under these circumstances we can scarcely wonder that the people of California should regard with dismay and dread the present movement for the admission of British Columbia into our Confederacy, or that they should telegraph to President Johnson (as they have done) asking him to do what he can to prevent the consummation of he Union, and to bring about the annexation of B itish Columbia to the United States.

We may, therefore, in all probability xpect to see and hear of more vigorous efforts being used for the purpose of inducing the people of British Columbia to throw off their allegiance to the British Crown, to prove false to their nationality, and to barter away all the glarious hopes and prospects which the future holds out to us and to them, for the sake of a few greenbacks.' But the anxiety which the Americans display to become possessed of British Columbia should not be without its lesson to us. It not only proves how valuable that country is, but how highly probable the people of California deem it that, if t becomes a portion of the Dominion, its principal scaport would take the place of San Francisco, and become in fact the most important city on the North Pacific coast. Court of Appeal.

EDITOR COLONIST,-The time which I have silently suffered to elapse from the 19th to the 24th inst., has afforded sufficient opportunity to the two writers in your paper of the 19th. to allow a sense of fair dealing to overcome the bitterness and anger against truth displayed in their comments upon my letter of 17th to you, (the authorship of which I gave you full permission to make known), and to atone to me for their very gross insinuations and accusations. But no, they are as obstinate in their injustice as yulgar in their style of inflicting it. The legal amateur VINDEX unconsciously marks his letter with the vice of tricky special pleading fawning servility with a spurious zeal for justice, distinguishes the letter of the other. While both writers with irritated and vindictive dishonesty have attempted to lure the public away from the true and only point of my contribution to your columns namely, the instant and crying necessity for a Court of Appeal.

I will not compliment these men on their great love for justice, at the expense of their better reputation for insincerity and cunning, well carned by their late or mmuni-cations in your paper, by supposing tha they themselves believe that which the anxiously wish the public to believe, namely that what I have written to you concerning the proceedings in a public Court, upon a motion to set aside an award was on an exparle statement in layor of defendants or condemnatory of plaintiff's proceedings while a cause was pending. I say I will not suppose that they have actually cheated themselves into such a notion, but I must not suffer them to cheat the public and slander me. They well know that the discussion and decisions in a public Court are son and decisions in a public Court are provided to them. That daily in England such matters are furnished to the public forcing the prese.—They also know that the matter which pended in Court pends there now no longer, and that it was a question as to the validiaty of an award. And well they know that the public were, of right, entitled to learn through the press of the court pends there are transfer to the press. through the press on the very next morning that which I have since communicated. They know right well that I have not written one word either in favor of or against a pending cause or condemnatory of plantill a proceedings, although one of the writes has had the slanderous efficuetary, so to write;

As regards the case in 3 C. L. R., 40, Vin-AN regeris inc case in 3 O. L. R., 20, Vir-DEX, who says that he is "fond of taking notes of cases cired," knows that I read aloud the title of the book which refers to that case; that I mentioned that the book was an American digest of English cases; that the case was Behren vs Bremer; that I read aloud the digest of it, which was all that I ould then do, as I had not the full report of it in Court. He also knows that I offered the book to the Judge, and finally that I paused to give the Judge time to make a note of it, and at the same time I saw, as I think, Yina DEX himself making his note of it also this be knows, and finally he knows that the case of all others on which I relied most is the very case which I have presented to the public, with the judgment in [91] of Chie Justice Erie, of which I trust VINDEX als has foully taken a note.

Of those who know me, whose good opinion is worth having, know that I am incapable of writing with a view to prejudice a pending cause. The base accusation reflects disgrace only on those who made it, and I should not have descended to notice it had not my friends, thinking it may be injurious to me with strangers, advised me to repel it with-out further delay.

D. BABINGTON RING. Victoria, June 24th, 1868.

Religious -The letter of our esteemed correspondent 'J E,' which appears to-day, we cordially commend to the careful perueal of our readers. A direct reply to some of the inquiries would involve a religious con-troversy, which we do not feel it our pro-vince to engage in. The Bishop of Columbla might give a more satisfactory answer to his most important question. We will therefore send the ray gentleman a copy of the paper containing of E's letter that he may have a knowledge of our friend's com-plaint. The appeal to the members of churches of different denominations, 'scats tered around' is made in a spirit of christian kindness and regard, which, we think, none who profess to be influenced by the pure principles of orthodox constitution can well disregard, nor are we aware of there being any obstacle to the exercise of their freedom of will in the matter. We do not feel com-petent to the task, however, of effecting what so many whose profession and sole office in such work have failed to accomplish. We beg to apologise to our esteemed friend for our neglect in not having noticed the com-mendable punctuality with which a small band of worshippers meet in the Cambrian Hall on each Sabbath day; and we much regret that when so good an example is set, and so lavorable an opportunity offered, that so few are to be found who prefer such a mode of spending the sabbath to a less profitable enjoyment.—Cariboo Sentinel.

Horrible Discases.

How many thousanes of persons, both male and temale are there who are sufering out a micrable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their palifid, emaciated and distigured faces, and their broken down constitutions, disqualitying them from the happiness of marriage or of the enjoyment of life. In this horself at the suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying mata-ties—see that they are careflor, and cured before it be too late. Sent them immediately to Dr. Gimson, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their frends, to be careful of the many pretended Dectors who infestall cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of certiment physicians from Eurone and other places. Be therefore careful, and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatars.

We esteem it a very valuable addition to curried of skin remoties, and worthly of a very extended trial by the profession. In the above classes of classes, and in various others, such as tetal ulcers, etc., the preparation is put into the form of scap.
